WEEK 17: 3-0

OVERALL: 216-224

LIONS @ COWBOYS (8:15pm ET)

COWBOYS QB DAK PRESCOTT UNDER 24.5 PASS COMPLETIONS (+100)

I'm playing the trends with this one. The Lions have kept the opposing quarterback under 25 completions in 9 of their last 10 games. Dak Prescott has been under this number in 4 of their last 5. My initial thought was that Prescott would throw a ton but he really hasn't had to lately. I could totally see him going 23 for 36 for 275 yards and a couple touchdowns.

LIONS RB JAHMYR GIBBS OVER 50.5 RUSHING YARDS (-115)

You have to believe in the kid, he has been electric over the last few weeks. Gibbs has been easily over this number in 6 of their last 7 games. The Cowboys allow around 90 yards per game to the running back position, but we saw what an elusive back like James Cook did to them in Week 15. This is a reasonable number for him to reach.

COWBOYS RB TONY POLLARD UNDER 59.5 RUSHING YARDS (-115)

You just don't run on the Lions. They are the best in the league at stopping the run, allowing 58 yards per game to the running back position. Pollard has been under this prop in 3 straight games (9 of his last 12) and those defenses were not as good at stopping the run. The Cowboys love the chuck it especially when they are playing in a comfortable environment like indoors at Ford Field.
