JETS @ BROWNS (8:15pm ET)

BROWNS TE DAVID NJOKU OVER 5.5 RECEPTIONS (-105)

I know the Jets have a great defense but this Browns offense have been on another level since Joe Flacco took over under center. They have completely transformed from a run first to a pass first team. Amari Cooper caught over 250 yards in Week 16. Joe Flacco has passed for over 300 yards in 3 straight games. I love Njoku because besides Amari, he's been Flacco's second favorite target and the numbers haven't really gotten inflated yet. He's caught at least 6 passes in 6 of his last 7 games. The Jets are solid against the tight end but that's why I'm not looking at the yardage, just the receptions.

JETS RB BREECE HALL OVER 32.5 RECEIVING YARDS (-110)

JETS RB BREECE HALL OVER 4.5 RECEPTIONS (-115)

If you've read my articles over the last few weeks, you know this has been a stone cold winner for me over the last month. Breece is the go to out of the backfield, he caught 12 balls last week and is averaging 6.5 catches per week over his last 6 games. He has also averaged nearly 50 yards per game receiving over that same span. He's the safety net for whoever they put out there at quarterback whether it's Zack Wilson, Trevor Siemian or Vinnie Testaverde.
